Its movement will be very rapid and clearing weather can be looked for this evening, followed by a drop of about 20 degrees in temperature by to-morrow evening and slightly lower reduction on Thursday. WALCUTT HAS ENOUGH.

He Has Dropped the Election Contest.

One Republican Who Is Satisfied that the Voters Selected the Man They Wanted to Serve Them.

Columbus, Dec. 22.—Gen. C. C. Walcutt has abandoned his contest for the seat of Hon. P. H. Bruck in the house of representatives. It was evident from the start that Mr. Bruck, the democrat, was elected and Gen. Walcutt did not want to contest, as he personally told the correspondent.

His vote was needed by one of the senatorial factions and he was forced into making a contest. The taking of depositions had proceeded only two days and Walcutt lost instead of gained in votes. Gen. Walcutt decided not to be longer used as a tool by the bosses of the republican party and addressed the following characteristic letter to Judge Nash, his counsel in the case, directing that the contest be stopped:

Columbus, O., Dec. 18.

Judge George K. Nash, Chairman of the Franklin County Committee—My Dear Sir: After mature deliberation I have concluded to ask you to withdraw the suit in contest with Hon. Phil. H. Bruck for the seat in the legislature. The end will in no way compensate for the annoyance and vexation, although confident of a plurality over the contestee in this case. We already have a large working majority in both branches of the general assembly and I can see no good reason in adding to it. I could not be seated in any event until after the senatorial question was settled, and to vote on that question was the main, if not the only, object I had in view when I consented to make the race, that if elected I might have the privilege of voting for that grand man and statesman, Senator John Sherman, who I hope and believe will have no trouble in being his own successor. I have looked the ground of contest all over and believe I was fairly elected, still on the face of the returns, so far as we have gone, the count is against me and I am willing to abide with it without further contention. You got me into this trouble, but I wish to assure you I do not regret it, for I at least have the proud satisfaction of having received a magnificent vote (and had we had the old way of voting the result would have been different and without any doubt). To both my democratic and republican friends I feel deeply grateful. I am satisfied to be myself again. Very sincerely yours,

CHARLES C. WALCUTT.

STILL AFTER SAGE.

More Fiends Haunting the Millionaire.

They Call at His House and Demand Money.

Mrs. Sage's Plucky Defense of Her Home.

She Chases a Crank Down the Steps.

Inspector Byrnes Has Copies of Many Letters Written to Mr. Sage and Will Start Out on a Crusade Against the Authors.

New York, Dec. 22.—The World this morning says that Russell Sage, whom the bomb thrower Norcross tried with dynamite to do out of $1,250,000, has again been threatened in a similar way.

Since Norcross tried to assassinate the venerable financier, Mr. Sage has received nearly 1,200 letters from cranks in all parts of the United States and even from Europe. Some in other language than English. The first thing Mr. Sage did was to tell Inspector Byrnes. The inspector said he would begin an anti-crank crusade. He persuaded Mr. Sage to give him some of the letters, or copies of them and translations of the foreign ones. With the doing of that Mr. Sage rested content.

Saturday evening a few minutes after nine o'clock there was a ring at the doorbell. One of the servants went to the door. Standing upon the steps was a young woman of rather uncouth appearance.

She asked: "Is this No. 509 Fifth avenue?"

The servant answered that it was not. Scarcely had she spoken when a man suddenly jumped before her and cried out: "I have come to kill Mr. Sage."

The servant was astonished for but an instant. Then she exclaimed loudly: "Well, you get right out of here."

The man said again: "I have come to kill Mr. Sage."

The servant told him to get out.

Just the Mrs. Sage came to the door The man asked if she had got his letter demanding $2,500. She said, No. He replied that if he did not get the money he would blow up the house. Mrs Sage rushed at him and choked him and pushed him down the steps. The police were notified and the house hase been closely watched ever since.

THEY CANNOT KEEP UP.

Too Much Work for the Supreme Court.

The Docket Growing Heavier Each Term with No Hope of Its Ever Being Cleared Up.

Columbus, Dec. 22.—The sine die adjournment of the supreme court until the opening of the next term on Jan. 5, 1892, again calls attention to the condition of the docket and shows that justice in the average cases brought before the court continues to get further away from the litigant, because of the inability of the judges, no matter how diligent, to keep up with the business.

At the beginning of the 1891 term there were 971 cases pending on the docket. During the term up to the adjournment 401 cases have been filed, with two dismissed in the previous term, making a total addition of 403 cases, and a grand total of 1,374.

The court this year disposed of 358 cases, which leaves at the time of the adjournment 1,016 cases pending. In 1890 the court disposed of 377 and the docket made a net gain of 53.

The net gain during the term just closed was 45, but with those to be filed the gain for 1891 will probably exceed that of 1890. The number of cases disposed of by the present court in the years 1890 and 1891 exceeded those of any previous years, except when assisted by a commission.

The court has been delayed to some extent in the consideration of general docket cases by the unusually large number of motions pressed upon it. During the year 271 motions have been considered and 266 passed upon. The preceding year the court disposed of 237 motions and considered 246.

TROTTED IN A FAST CLASS.

Such Was Graves' Opinion of Mrs. Barnaby.

Continuation of the Murder Trial in Denver—Newspaper Reporters Playing a Prominent Part.

Denver, Col., Dec. 22.—The Graves trial continues without the presence of Judge Macon, who is still too ill to appear. Judge Furman took his place on cross-examining the witnesses for the defense.

Charles Lincoln, the Providence correspondent for the Boston Herald, was the first witness. He corroborated all that Reporter Trickey said about their interview with the doctor.

Reporter Day swore that he asked the doctor about this interview and he refused either to deny or affirm it. He had an interview with Dr. Graves on the latter's arrival from Denver on April 27 last. The doctor, soon after he met him, asked about the bogus telegram sent to the doctor's wife by Reporter Kirby.

He also asked about the other bogus message sent to his wife by the Providence reporters and then he told the witnesses he had been appointed to look after her property after being solicited three times. He knew much about her, but for the sake of her daughters he had kept quiet, but he did not think he could remain quiet any longer.

Mrs. Barnaby, he said, had many lovers, and then he spoke of her alleged intimacy with Bennett, the guide. It was all bosh that he had drawn up a will for her, but he admitted that he was a beneficiary under her will.

An autopsy had been held on her body in Denver and it had been shown that she died of poison. The first he knew of her being poisoned was when he was told by Mrs. Worrell. Mrs. Worrell, sr., was a coarse woman. He did not believe she was as sick as she said she was. This interview occurred in the Western Union telegraph office.

Witness had a second interview with the doctor early on the following morning. Mr. Tucker, of the Boston Globe, was with him on this occasion. They entered the doctor's house at 7:20 a. m. The doctor said when he met Mrs. Barnaby she was not in a good physical condition. He gave her much attention for which he received extra compensation. He and Mrs. Graves were guests of Mrs. Barnaby the previous summer at Blue Mountain lake. He spoke of her as a woman of bad character.

HAD TO CLOSE.

Heavy Notes Fall Due and Embarrass a Big Firm.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 22.—Thomas H. Allen & Co., cotton factors, who have been in business here for five years, failed this morning.

One year ago the firm failed but made a settlement with its creditors by giving notes for $200,000 each and resumed business.

The first note was paid in June but the second, due yesterday, could not be met. The liabilities are $544,000; assets about two-thirds of that amount. The downfall of the firm was caused by Richard H. Allen involving it in Wall street speculation eighteen days ago.

MISS BAYARD MARRIED.

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 22.—Louise Lee Bayard, youngest daughter of ex-Secretary of State Bayard, was married at her father's home, Delamore Place, to Dr. Frank Angell, a professor at Cornell University, yesterday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jesse Higgins, of Baltimore. Owing to the recent death of Count Lewenhaupt there were but few guests at the wedding.

SAD FATE OF A FREE RIDER.

Lima, O., Dec. 22.—Bert Urick, aged twenty-two and clerk in the Lake Erie & Western freight-house, was stealing a ride on a freight train on the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago, when he missed his footing and falling was ground to death, twenty cars passing over him.

COTTON ACREAGE.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 22.—Farmers and state commissioners of agriculture from five states are in session here considering the low price of cotton. A movement is on foot to organize throughout the south and to reduce the acreage.

WILL COME TO-MORROW

Speaker Crisp to Announce His Committees.

Congressman Haynes to be Well Cared for.

Chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency and Member of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors.

Washington, Dec. 22.—(Special)—From present indications the speaker will announce his committees to-morrow.

The speculation regarding his disposition of members is varied, and great stress is put upon the statement that he will throw long established rules aside and make an entirely new departure in selecting his chairmen, always keeping in mind the men who stood by him in his recent fight.

There is no doubt but that Congressman Haynes will get a good committee. This morning's slate makers put him at the head of the banking and currency, a committee he is eminently fitted to lead.

They also give to Mr. Outhwaite the military affairs, and a minor committee to Capt. Owens, the latter preferring a committee with little work.

Mr. Haynes may also be selected as a member of the committee on rivers and harbors. This would be what he would undoubtedly desire.

It would give him a lever with which to secure good and reasonable appropriations for the lakes.

Although his work in securing appropriations last congress was excellent, to be a member of that committee would greatly assist him.

DEAD IN THE STREETS.

Stabbed to the Heart by an Enemy.

Alice, Tex., Dec. 22.—Jesus Gonzales, a handsome young Mexican, was found dead on one of the principal streets of the town yesterday. He was stabbed through the heart.

Near by him lay his own dagger, bloody to the hilt, and a faded rose was pinioned above his heart.

A well-known Mexican citizen named Sancile do has been arrested charged with the crime. He admits having killed the man but says he acted in self-defense. Across his face was an ugly knife slash. The trouble was about a woman.

COST HIM SOMETHING.

A Farmer Starts Out to See the Sights.

He Finds Them, Falls in with Gamblers, Gets Fighting Drunk and Sobers Up at the Central Police Station.

J. E. Kennedy, a young farmer from Ai, Fulton county, came to Toledo yesterday to sell some pork and after making the sale proceeded to celebrate by getting drunk. About 6 o'clock in the evening he went into August Weiland's saloon, corner of Walnut and Summit streets, and asked for beer, which was refused him as he was already intoxicated. He thereupon proceeded to knock Mr. Weiland down and fled, but was soon arrested.

Even after being locked up his spirit was not tamed and for some fancied grievance he struck another prisoner, Al White, and blacked his eye.

In court this morning Kennedy pleaded guilty of drunkenness but did not remember anything about the two assaults he was charged with committing. His story was that yesterday afternoon he fell in with a gambler who showed him his gambling room in the vicinity of the Market and afterwards they had two glasses of beer together. He remembered nothing further and thought the beer must have been drugged.

The court fined him the costs for being drunk and assessed him $10 and costs in each of the cases for assault and battery.

DRIVEN INTO EXILE.

Hurlburt Forced to Leave His Native Land.

He Has Taken Up a Residence in Mexico and Can Laugh at the British Authorities.

New York, Dec 22.—The World this morning says it can announce upon information obtained from an unimpeachable source that William Henry Hurlburt is in Mexico. Hurlburt selected the country where he could best escape the consequences of his alleged crime in England.

Perjury is not one of the extraditable offences included in England's treaty with Mexico. Mr. Hurlburt may stay there as long as he pleases, or he may go to the continent of Europe and be free from arrest. He cannot, however, live in his own country.

TWO MORE INDICTMENTS

Found Against Broker Edward M. Field.

Strange Actions of the Criminal in His Prison.

A Divided Opinion Among New York People as to the Sanity of the Man Who Stole by the Thousand.

New York, Dec. 22.—Two more indictments have been returned against Edward M. Field, of the defunct firm of Field, Lindley, Weichers & Co., by the grand jury.

Both indictments specify grand larceny in the first degree, and are based on the complaint made by Frank J. Sprague, who charges Field with the larceny of 350 shares of Edison electrical light stock, which he gave as collateral for borrowed money.

The case against Field to test his sanity has been continued to to-morrow. There are so many cases of forgery against Field that the district attorney does not try to enumerate them, and they already represent deals by which Field secured half a million dollars.

When Field entered the Ludlow street jail he was perfectly well physically, save for nervous prostration and weakness resulting from 24 hours' abstinence from food. That night at the warden's table he ate a piece of toast and drank some tea. A pitcher of milk taken to his cell was untouched the next morning. Though he has the privilege of the warden's table, he has not sat there since.

During Wednesday and Thursday he partook of a little toast and tea. He retired Thursday night at 10:30, and when Warden Dunlap went to his cell the next morning he was dressed. Up to this morning he has not taken nourishment enough to keep a baby alive.

Field calls for all the daily papers in the morning, but he doesn't read them carefully. He glances over the headlines with indifference. He appears to treat matter telling of himself casually, except all reference to his father, which he eagerly reads. He has asked the warden to tell him of any change in his father's condition, intimating that while he fears his relatives might keep these facts from him, he knows he can find them in the newspapers. Field does not talk, but spends the time listlessly. He lies down several hours each day, but does not sleep. He has not lost flesh, and seems to need only what he is getting—rest.

Cyrus W. Field's condition is practically unchanged. The news of his son's imprisonment proved little of a shock, for Mr. Field expected it. It was learned yesterday for a certainty that on the day following Mrs. Field's funeral, the father and family learned all that has been developed and more, too. The state of the business, which creditors cannot get at yet, was revealed in detail.

Dr. Fuller called at 5 o'clock last evening. He says Mr. Field sat up for about three hours. He eats invalids' food. The newspapers and a host of relatives have been kept away from him and he is holding his strength. To-day the doctor expects his patient will sit up longer than he did yesterday.

A friend of Dr. Allen Fitch yesterday gave some further incidents regarding E. M. Field's condition when that well known physician and others first examined him. He said:

"One day Field wrote or telegraphed to a friend in Philadelphia—a physician, I believe—to come to New York and call at his office the next day. The friend came and presented himself at Field's office and was greeted with the following rough and furious outbreak:

"'What do you mean by coming to see me at my office during business hours? Don't you know that I am very busy?'

"The friend looked at him in consternation and answered: 'But you sent for me.'

"'No,' answered Field, angrily; 'I did nothing of the kind.'

"Another incident of the same kind has come to my ears. Field met his brother William on the street one day and said to him that he had something very important to tell him, but he was then too busy. It was agreed that they would take lunch together at a certain cafe. William kept the engagement and waited four hours for Edward, but he never came. When William asked the next day why he did not come he not only denied that he had made any engagement, but even that he had seen his brother on the previous day.

"Here is another interesting bit of news: It is said that one day so far back as last spring, Dr. Lindley, whose sister is the wife of Edward Field, went to her, put his arm tenderly about her, and said with tears:

"'My poor sister, Edward is almost totally insane!'

"'Why do you say so?' the poor woman asked, with an expression of horror.

"'It is the way he talks to me. Why, he often becomes so much excited that he keeps working his voice up to a higher and higher pitch with every word, and when I come to examine what he has said I find it perfectly irrational.'"

HIS BONES TELL THE STORY

A Skeleton Found in a Hollow Tree.

With Iron Shackles on His Legs, the Man Had Evidently Sought Safety From His Pursuers.

Gainesville, Tex., Dec. 22.—Near Tishomingo a strange discovery has been made by some woodchoppers who were working in the hills west of that place.

They brought to town a skeleton and the section of a tree to bear evidence of the truthfulness of their story. They cut down a large tree which was partially hollow, but the entrance to the hollowed portion had almost entirely grown over, leaving a narrow slit in the outside of the tree.

When the tree fell to the ground it was split open by the shock, and there, lying in the center of the broken wood, was the skeleton of a man.

On one ankle of the skeleton was a band of iron attached to a piece of chain, evidently from the manacles worn when he sought refuge in the hollow tree.

From all indications the skeleton has been entombed for many years, for the tree had grown sufficiently to almost cover the opening through which he had crawled to hide. Two of the ribs were broken in such manner as to lead to the belief that it was done by a bullet.

The supposition is that the man escaped from some prison and had fled with a portion of the manacles, and, being shot and hard pressed, had sought refuge in the tree and there died.

CHINESE MASSACRE.

Brussels, Dec. 2.—The Catholic mission has Chinese advices to the effect that 1,000 native Christians were massacred during the recent disturbances in northern China. The Belgians all escaped.

MILLINERS FAIL.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 22.—Summerfield Bros., wholesale milliners, failed this morning. Their liabilities are $25,000, due to Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and New York firms.

LIFE IN FOREIGN PRISONS

Joseph Darakjian Escapes From a Living Tomb.

Sentenced to Have His Tongue Cut Out

nd Then Beheaded—His Was a Religious Crime, and It Took the Power of England to Keep the Court's Decree From Being Executed.

New York, Dec. 22.—Joseph Darakjian is the name of a young Armenian who came to this country as a steerage passenger by the steamship Nevada.

He is an accomplished linguist, and is given to literary pursuits. When he was landed from the Nevada two months ago he was a physical wreck hardly able to walk. He had friends here, who obtained his release from the barge office and had him sent to the St. Vincent hospital.

He is fully recovered now, and told his story, which is one of exceptional interest.

He said that he was born in Diarbekekir, Armenia, 27 years ago, received a fine education and nine years ago went to Constantinople, where his occupation was that of a pedagogue to young Christians. One day, he says, he came across an unfinished translation of the Koran, and, as he was more familiar with the English text than with the original Arabic, he became interested in the translation and wrote for his own amusement an essay showing the points wherein the Mohammedan creed differed from the Christian religion.

Some Turkish official heard of the work and the young scribe was arrested on the heinous crime of translating the Koran into English. He produced the title page of the book and showed that it had been translated before he was born.

The judge before whom he was tried refused to listen to the argument and sentenced him to have his tongue cut out, and then after three days to be beheaded.

Friends interceded and his case was appealed to a higher court. The sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and the victim was thrown in a dungeon.

For forty days he was in solitary confinement and then his lonely cell was invaded by a number of murderers who had been condemned to a fate like his own.

The cell was damp and close. Its only means of ventilation was through a small grated aperture overhead. For two hours each day the granite block was removed from the small hole and the foul air of the dungeon allowed to escape.

Darakjian's fellow-prisoners fell sick and some of them became delirious. He became afflicted with rheumatism and the malady became so bad that he was unable to move. Finally he was removed from the cell and placed in the prison hospital.

The brutal nature of the treatment he received there made him glad to return to the loathsome cell. One day he asked for a drink of water, saying that he would die from thirst if he did not get it. "Go and die, you enemy of Mohammed!" was the answer to the appeal.

His friends had been making efforts to obtain his release, but had met with no success. Finally it occurred to one of them to apply to Sir William White, the British minister. The minister became interested in the case and succeeded in having Darakjian set at liberty.

But it was a mere shadow of his former self that crawled out of the prison cell. Deeming it unsafe for him to remain longer in Constantinople, his friends secured him a passage to America and hurried him here. He speaks English, French, Greek and Armenian, but his fluency in these languages has been impaired by two years of disease while in prison.

A WANDERER ON THE WORLD

Sad Case of a Woman Crazed by Trouble.

Although Wealthy, She Has Very Nearly Starved Several Times While Fleeing From Imaginary Enemies.

Burlington, Ia., Dec. 22.—A man whose dress indicated that he was from the west registered at the Duncan hotel under the name of W. P. White.

He registered from Hennessey, Oklahoma.

It was learned later, however, that the man's real name is William Osborne, a deputy marshal of Oklahoma. He was not here in quest of criminals, but was looking for his mother. He tells a strange and pathetic story.

Last April William Osborne's mother left her son's home and went to Kansas to visit relatives. She is a widow, cultured and refined, and possessed of considerable property; but a large portion of her estate had become in volved and left her without the income to which she was entitled.

At the time she left her son's home in Kansas for a visit her estate of about $75,000 was in the New York courts. Her son gave her a good sum of money when she went away, and charged her to draw on him for any further funds that she might need.

Osborne heard of his mother from time to time in different parts of Kansas where she visited relatives, but was not aware that his mother had become possessed of a strange fancy. She fears some one is following her with evil purpose.

It is learned that, impressed by these fears, she has fled from town to town in Kansas, hiding herself in obscure places from fear of imaginary pursuers. It is believed that her mind has become deranged by her property troubles.

The saddest part of the story was learned when Osborne reached Burlington. Mrs. Osborne had been in Burlington for the past six months, acting in the capacity of nurse in several families, and part of the time subsisting upon charity at the hospitals.

She recovered from an attack of illness, and then being attacked with a vague fear that some one was after her started for Chicago.

Mrs. Osborne is entitled to an estate of $50,000, but has nearly starved on various occasions on her trips in fleeing from supposed enemies. Her son departed for Chicago to find her if possible.

SLAVERY IN MOROCCO.

Terrible Reports Cabled from London.

The Powers Cannot Allow This State of Affairs to Exist Without Entering a Protest.

London, Dec. 22.—A blockade of the coast of Morocco is within the probabilities of the near future. Should that fail to secure the ends aimed at, an expedition to the interior of Muley Hassan's dominions may follow.

Negotiations have been begun with one or the other of these objects in view, by the Powers which signed the Anti-Slavery protocal of the Brussels conference.

According to the reports of the French and Spanish Ministers at Tangiers Muley Hassan has repudiated his own indorsement of the Brussels agreement by authorizing the sale of negroes in his Empire.

Moreover, it has been discovered that the Sultan of Morocco has countenanced the foundation of a settlement at Marakesch, one of the imperial residences, in which male and female slaves brought from the interior are compelled to marry, in order that the children born of these unholy unions may be sold for the Sultan's benefit. In fact, slaves are being bred in Morocco in much the same fashion as horses. Europe cannot tolerate so gross a violation of its decisions, and all the signatory Powers seem virtually in accord as to the necessity of an expedition

Although the Sultan is fond of boasting that Morocco is stronger than Europe, he knows well enough that barbarism must always and everywhere give place in the long run to civilization.

Should the contemplated expedition be ordered France will take advantage of the opportunity of settling the issues relating to Touat with Muley Hassan.

At present the Sultan occupies the Touat territory illegally. It is on the direct route of the slave caravans France now has an excellent pretext afforded her for settling the Oran frontier question, and we may be sure she will make the most of it.

More news of the Austrian missionaries, whose arrival at Korosko, near Wady-Halfa, after escaping from the hands of the Mahdists, at Omdurman, was reported from here on the 14th inst., has been received. In an interview at Korosko, Father Ohrwalder, one of the members of the Austrian Soudan Mission, who fell into the hands of the Mahdists in 1883, when Kordofan was captured, states that forty Europeans are still held in captivity at Omdurman. These captives, he said, are kept loaded with manacles, are often beaten, and are so strictly guarded that they have lost all hope of ever being able to effect an escape.

AN ECCENTRIC OLD MAN.

Queer in His Ways, but a Moneymaker.

Had No Faith in Doctors, Would Take No Medicine and Had Not Been Sick in Seventy-Two Years.

Salem Ill., Dec. 22.—Mr. David S. Cozad, the farmer who has died at his residence, eight miles northwest of here, was an eccentric and peculiar man.

At the time of his death he was over 94 years old. He was born in Fairfield county, Ohio, and at the age of 22 he went to Virginia. At 26 he married Nancy A. Lee of the old Virginia Lee stock.

In 1867 he moved to this county and purchased a large tract of valuable land (about 600 acres), where he continued to reside until his death.

His first wife having died, he married Mrs. Anna Doty in 1873. He was the father of fourteen children, nearly all of whom are still living.

Until his last illness he had not been sick in seventy-two years. He had no faith in the skill of physicians nor any confidence in the virtue of medicines, and had not taken a single dose of medicine since the spring of 1819.

He would not have a physician called or take any medicine during his last illness. A few days before he died he consented to permit a courier to be dispatched for medicine, but when the drug was brought he refused to take it, and directed that it be returned to the doctor.

No one fully knows the condition of his financial affairs. At the time he died he had cash on hand to the amount of $4,676.35. He also had a large sum in an Ohio bank, deposited there twenty-four years ago on interest. He had never drawn from the Ohio bank any of the deposit, either principal or interest, and in the same county in Ohio he had a mortgage on a large farm, taken in 1841 for money loaned, upon which he had never demanded anything but the yearly interest.

At the time of the bank robbery at this place, on February 13, 1890, Mr. Cozad lost $4,000 in United States 4 per cents. Since the robbery the old gentleman never came to this place. The bonds were not registered and were a total loss to him.

A short time before he died he selected the very spot where he should be buried at the Marshall Creek Cemetery, near his home.

His first vote for president was cast in 1820 for James Monroe, and he has voted at each presidential election since.

LANDS IN SUNNY CLIMES

Venezuela Ruled by the Hand of a Tyrant.

Ex-President Rojas Paul Exiled From His Country.

The Present Ruler Is Hostile to Anything Secretary Blaine May Want in the Line of Reciprocity in Trade.

Washington, Dec. 22.—If President Harrison reimposes tariff taxes on the sugar, coffee, etc., of the Latin-American countries which have not negotiated reciprocity treaties, Venezuela will be one of the chief sufferers.

When reciprocity was proposed by Minister Scruggs, Venezuela refused to listen and gave the American minister a rather rough reply. The reason for this lies in the political intrigues of President R. Andueza Palacios.

Andueza Palacios was secretary of state under President J. P. Rojas Paul, the most prominent statesman of Venezuela. Rojas Paul resigned the presidency after serving one term, naming as his successor Andueza Palacios. As soon as the latter was elected he began to harass Rojas Paul, until he was forced to come to New York. After living here for a while he received a letter from President Adueza Palacios inviting him to return. Rojas Paul returned to his country and was received with open arms. The streets of the capital were lined with people, and over 20,000 people were massed around the railroad station.

It was about this time that negotiations for a reciprocity treaty were begun by Minister Scruggs. Rojas Paul declared in favor of reciprocity on equitable terms. The president heard of this and offered Rojas Paul a diplomatic appointment in any country he might select. Rojas Paul declined to be sent out of the country. He wrote to the president a letter of which the following is a part:

I am satisfied with the esteem of my countrymen and a guarantee from the president that I will be allowed to live the rest of my days in peace. I have no desire for anything else. I do not desire nor can I have any designs on the presidency during the next term.

Should I be able to command any following, I tell you sincerely that I would use my best endeavors to throw that following in the ranks of some true friend who would give me proper guarantees of being allowed to live as a private citizen. After this explanation I hope that you do not doubt my words, for they are sincere and you can depend upon them. Time will prove to you what I say and how truly I mean the above.

Andueza Palacios was not satisfied with this letter and a month later he issued a proclamation declaring that Rojas Paul had begun to agitate the people against the government, pronouncing seditious speeches and sending emissaries to the interior country to work up a feeling against the present administration, and that in view of this he gave Rojas Paul 24 hours in which to leave the country forever. Dr. Rojas Paul was placed on board a steamer by the detectives and shipped to Curacoa.

This caused a terrible excitement, and for a time it was said that a revolution would break out, as Dr. Rojas Paul was the most popular man in Venezuela.

Andueza Palacios breathed easier, for as long as Rojas Paul was in Venezuela he could not assume dictatorial powers. The champion of reciprocity out of the way, the anti-American sentiment prevailed. The followers of Andueza Palacios were instructed to defeat any attempt at reciprocity.

The merchants raised a protest, but to no avail. The propositions of Mr. Blaine were peremptorily refused.

The wholesale exiling of partisans of Rojas Paul and friends of the reciprocity scheme which followed and the muddle Andueza Palacios has made of the dispute between England and his country have caused some ugly mutterings to be heard.

The last steamer to sail for Venezuela was detained by orders of the state department, in order to allow Minister Scruggs to board it with the latest proposals of the United States. In the meantime the friends of reciprocity and Rojas Paul are trying to patch up a truce between their leader and the president, so that the reciprocity treaty may be agreed to and the commerce of Venezuela saved.

OUR CURES ARE PERMANENT.

Read What a Gentleman Says Who Was Treated Last Summer.

Six months ago there was published in all of the Toledo papers the story of Mr. Joseph Coombs, who lives at 384 Indiana avenue. Mr. Coombs' case attracted widespread attention at the time, and there were many to say that the relief he found was only temporary and would soon pass away. Mr. Coombs, now desires to verify his statement of last July, and to testify to the permanency and make still stronger what he then said of his cure. Mr. Coombs said last July:

MR. JOSEPH COOMBS, 384 INDIANA AVE.

"A year ago I had la grippe, and it had left its deadly effects. My head and nose were so completely stopped up as to make it almost impossible for me to breathe. My eyes weak and watery, ringing noises in my ears, a constant hawking and spitting, trying to raise a substance that seemed to close my throat; the mucus would drop from the back of my head to the throat, which was a constant source of annoyance.

"I was pretty near a wreck. Everything I knew for the treatment of catarrh, and every physician I ever heard of I tried to relieve me of my suffering, but with no result. My head has at times, as I thought, come so near bursting that I would cry for 'help,' fearing my mind would be affected by the awful pain.

"In this condition I heard of Dr. Copeland and associates, and concluded to consult them. This I did, and also began treatment, and to-day I am so much better my whole life seems to have changed. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Copeland and associates, for they have certainly saved me from a fate worse than death, and let me say again, that as a citizen and a gentleman, I deem it my sacred duty to have my statement made public for the sake of others who, perhaps at this time, are where I was three weeks ago."

And now, six months after Mr. Coombs made the above statement, he says: "I am entirely cured and as healthy as ever I was. That statement of mine was NOT STRONG ENOUGH for the good you have done me. I will gladly see and answer all doubters of your skill and the permanence of your cures."

Mr. Joseph Coombs is employed as night watchman in the Toledo Blade building, where he can be seen and this statement readily verified.

THE PENNSYLVANIA DEAL.

Branch of the Pan Handle Comes to Toledo.

The First Passenger Train March 1.

The Transaction of the Greatest Importance to Toledo—The Line Taps the P., F. W. & C. at Mansfield and the Pan Handle at Coshocton.

Toledo will on March 1 add another important branch to its many railroad entrances and exits.

A branch of the Pan Handle which will reach Toledo on or about that date is already well under way and while it has been known simply as a prospective coal road under the name of the Toledo, & Walhonding Valley it will be really a passenger line which will tap the two great branches of the Pennsylvania.

A few days ago the Bee gave the particulars of the Pennsylvania deal and incidentally referred to the new line. This morning a gentleman who should know, said that the proposed branch now approaching completion would be in operation the last of February, and that the first through passenger train from the Pan Handle would reach Toledo about the first day of March.

The importance of the new line cannot be overestimated. It will tap the Pan Handle at Coshocton and the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago at Mansfield. Heretofore passengers going to Toledo or Michigan points via the Pan Handle transferred at Coshocton and went around by Columbus, taking the Hocking Valley or Ohio Central to Toledo. This will not be necessary hereafter.

The line is now under construction from Loudenville to Coshocton.

Besides giving Toledo a good through passenger line with eastern points, it also gives this city an inlet into the great coal fields of the Walhonding valley.

The purchase by the Pennsylvania of about 1,300 feet of river front on this side of the Maumee—the Bailey property—at a cost of $50,000, showed that the Pennsylvania meant making Toledo an important distributing point on its system, but the East Side transaction if it goes through, promises to be much more important.

"If the company gets a chance," said the Bee's informant, "it proposes doing great things for Toledo, but obstacles have already arisen and it looks as if some legal action would have to be taken before it can be gotten through."

A PLEASANT CALL.

Rev. J. F. Cowan, editor of the Methodist Protestant Sunday School periodicals, Pittsburg, Pa., passed through the city to-day, stopping off for a call at the Bee office. Mr. Cowan is an old Adrian College man and has been spending a few days with friends in that city. He is well-known as a short story writer for the New York Independent, Youth's Companion and other periodicals, besides occasionally favoring the Bee with his characteristic sketches. He is one of the brightest and most industrious of our younger class of writers. Two collections of his sketches are about ready for the booksellers. Mr. Cowan highly complimented the Bee building and the rooms of the newspaper makers. He said he had seen as pretentious exteriors but never so well-arranged, commodious and pleasant work rooms.

A NIGHT OUT

Gets Two Young Men in Trouble—After Women and Meet a Revolver.

Some girls, a dance and a row, landed Charles Devol and Henry Niver in the police station last night on a charge of disturbance.

The testimony in court this morning was very much mixed and showed others in about as bad light as the defendants. The complainant was Frank Pflock, watchman at the Huron block, on Adams street, and he said that Devol and Niver went to the Huron block about 3:30 this morning just after he had returned from the dance and created a disturbance by pounding on the door, using vile language and demanding a woman who they declared was in the basement. Pflock denied that the woman was there, but afterwards invited them to come down stairs. When he got into the cellar he took a revolver from a box, struck Niver and drove them out, firing a shot as he did so.

The testimony of Devol and Niver was that earlier in the evening they had been with two women and afterwards had gone to the same dance. After leaving the dance they started to hunt the women, and went into the basement of the Huron block. They denied using any bad language and stated that Pflock struck Niver and fired at them, after which they ran away. Upon this testimony the defendants were discharged.

MANUAL TRAINING

To be Extended to the Girls of Ward Schools.

An Important Proposition Made to the Board of Education by the Manual Training Board —The Regular Meeting.

The board of education met in regular session last night.

A. E. Macomber, member of the manual training school board, was present, and made a proposition of vast importance to the parents of girls attending the ward schools.

He stated that ever since the manual training school had been established it had been a question often discussed by the board how far and to what limit the many advantages of the institution could be extended. It has been the object of the board all along to give the ward pupils an opportunity to procure some of the advantages of this institution, but it was always a question as to how this end could be accomplished so as to not interfere with the regular school work. He said there were a great many pupils who leave school before entering the high school, and never derived any of the benefits of the manual training departments.

He continued that the board had concluded that cooking and sewing, two of the very important departments of the school, could at least be extended to the girls, which would be so much good accomplished until other plans could be consummated.

He then proposed that a Saturday class in sewing be established in such ward schools as the board of education might designate, and such instructors as needed would be supplied by the manual training board. Then, to give such pupils as desired all possible advantage of the cooking department, a Saturday class would be established and maintained at the manual training school.

Miss Fockens, superintendent of the sewing department, made a statement explaining the system and course of work, also offering some valuable information on the new departure. The matter was looked upon with considerable favor by the members of the board, and was referred to the teachers' committee. It is expected to establish the new class with the beginning of the next term.

The regular monthly bills were audited, including the teachers' and janitors' payroll.

Treasurer Opitz reported a note for $13,000 due, which was ordered paid.

GILDEMEESTER & KROEGER.

The most important piece of news in the piano manufacturing world of late is the resignation of P. J. Gildemeester as manager and partner of Chickering & Sons, New York, and joining all his capital, immense business capacity and energy, with Kroeger & Sons.

The new firm will be Gildemeester & Kroeger, and will make the celebrated "Kroeger Piano" a still greater and more formidable competitor for the honors so long held by Chickering and Steinway.

Mr. Gildemeester has, for many years, been the head and front of the Chickering's New York house. He is one of the best known men in the piano trade, and his ability as a business manager is second to none.

This union will enable Henry Kroeger and his son to devote their whole time to the factory. Mr. Kroeger, Sr., is well known as the greatest tone maker in pianos extant. He was for more than twenty years the superintendent of the Steinway factory, and his own pianos of the past twelve years have created a sensation in the piano world.

TRULY MARVELOUS.

In nearly every pursuit followed by the busy throng of human beings, in an endeavor to supply the necessaries of life, as well as to excel and gain honor, there are always to be found a selected few possessing an ability in their special lines, bordering upon the truly marvelous. By study and application almost anybody can become able to paint a picture, but it is left for the selected few to correctly portray the passions with the brush. And so in the great profession of medicine—almost any in the large army of physicians is capable of recognizing the rough outlines of the more common diseases, but it is left for the favored few to correctly read and understand the subtle language of disease.

By a careful analysis of facts we are led to look upon Drs. France & Ottman, who have been visiting our city several months, as the happy professors of a special adaptibility in their line. They came among us with an enviable reputation already earned from abroad, and their long list of wonderful cures in our community, and the constantly increasing crowds that throng their parlors at the hotel tells a story more potent than words and of untold interest to those who day by day are watching the unmistakable tracery of disease bearing themselves and friends down to a miserable existence and untimely end

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo, Wednesday December 23. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett House, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

INJURED BY A FALL.

About 4:30 yesterday afternoon an old gentleman was seen tightly clutching a lamp post on Jefferson street near St. Clair. His grasp was seen to loosen and, staggering, he fell to the ground backwards, his head bounding from the pavement like a rubber ball. A few bystanders hastened forward and raised him up. Blood was flowing from a deep gash in the back of the head and he was unconscious. The patrol was called and he was taken to Dr. Jones' office near by.

The doctor did not think the skull was fractured but found two ugly cuts on the head. After the wounds were dressed the man recovered sufficiently to give his name. He is William Trier, representative of a Detroit publishing concern. He was taken to his room at the New York house where, this morning, he was resting easy. Mr. Trier says his fall was caused by a fit of dizziness to which he is subject.

TOLEDO, OHIO, DECEMBER 22, 1891.

Dispatches from Columbus to-day indicate that Sherman stock is again booming.

It's "war time" again in Europe. France, Austria-Hungary, the Czar, the Emperor, the Balkan states, the German chancellor are all "in it."

It is not impertinent to inquire if Mayor Emmick is personally interested in the schemes of certain Detroit garbage collectors who want a contract from the city of Toledo.

When this senatorial campaign shall end the republicans of Toledo will have a jolly time settling their differences. The leaders have run the gamut of invective and Billingsgate and the pleasant row will continue more than one campaign.

Political intrigues within Venezuela have interfered with reciprocity negotiations for trade with the United States. That seems to be the ailment of all the S. A. republics. Where's the outcome of that Pan-American congress? we ask again. Our neighbors are true southerners—polite in society and on occasion, but business is business.

The republicans of Wood do not like the idea of being congressionally joined with the Lucas schemers. There is a loud protest in Fulton, also, though Brother Brigham believes he can read his title clear to a congressional seat if the legislature will make a republican district in this part of Ohio.

Southern newspapers are expressing themselves with great good sense on the subject of a pension for the widow of Jefferson Davis. The Staunton, Va., Vindicator says: "There is no surplus of money in the South to expend on recollections of the past and if there were, there are thousands of needy ex-Confederates and their widows whose silent and uncomplaining endurance of poverty and hardships should silence instantly and forever the very thought of pensioning one who is able to live in luxury."

The death of Senator Plumb has set the Kansas machine in motion and the Governor who will appoint the successor is in great demand by the friends of the willing candidates. Nearly every school section has a first citizen of the state who desires the honor and emoluments. Naturally, the public turn to Ingalls as the man for the place, but as he and Gov. Humphrey are not friendly Ingallism will hardly resume business at the old stand. It is intimated that Humphrey would like the place himself and that he may resign the governorship, with the understanding that the lieutenant-governor who will succeed to the executive office will appoint him.

One of the strange paradoxes of our queer American nature is the way our people—or a goodly portion of those who make themselves heard—rail out against England of all foreign nations and then hasten to ape and to quote her. It isn't "good form." We shut her out of our markets, and laud "the home industry," in laws and on paper. Our men and women who are rich enough to do so, go over there and buy their seasons' wardrobes and smuggle them home in domestic looking trunks, because they get better goods for the same or lower prices. The Christmas mistletoe is as common in Maryland (so says the Baltimore Sun) as the woodbine is in Ohio, and yet, to find sale in the markets, it is branded "English mistletoe."

We feel that it is the duty of Senator Sherman's managers to inform him of the true state of affairs in this state and not allow him longer to remain under the impression that he will be re-nominated for senator. We believe if the facts were known by him he would retire from the contest while he could do so with dignity and honor.—Lima Republican Gazette.

The desire manifested by some of our republican exchanges for the peaceful shelving of Uncle John is truly touching, though just how he could retire with "dignity and honor" at this stage is something no one but the partisan organgrinder can find out. With a pack of unwhipped school boys yelping at his heels, Senator Sherman, it seems to an ordinary observer, must face them and drive them off. "Dignity" may be sacrificed, even so; but "honor" can be maintained in no other way. For Sherman to retire now would be for him to confess that all the things charged against him by the Foraker wing of the republican press in Ohio are true. Again, the suggestion that Mr. Sherman be informed "of the true state of affairs in this state" is rich. No man better than the wily gentleman of Mansfield knows all about the state of affairs in Ohio.

CRIME AND THE LAW.

Mr. Frederick Smyth, recorder of New York city, writing of his experiences and observations in Scribner's magazine for January, says:

"A very large portion of the criminal offences brought to the notice of the courts consists of those committed by boys, or young men under the age of twenty-five years."

And is this fact due to the lax discipline of boys—young boys, as compared with the strict oversight of parents and guardians in the times gone by? The streets of the city are the boys' play-haunts. Mothers are admonished to keep their girls within doors for fear of moral contamination, but the active, imitative, busy, mischievous boy, the good boy, by nature, is abroad, unshielded in the midst of direst temptation. Wide open doors lure him into questionable places, and parents in their ignorance comfort themselves with the boys-will-be-boys and wild-oats theory until some fine morning disgrace comes upon the household; the boy is a thief or a law-breaker in some line that warrants his arrest. Is this a true diagnosis of the case? And where is the remedy? Mr. Smyth observes further that—

"The fact that so many crimes are committed by persons of immature years, however sad it may be, proves that, to some extent at least, the penalties of the criminal law are not effective in preventing crime."

He strongly recommends the reformatory institutions as likely to reform young criminals and so prevent crime in later days.

Which is good recommendation, but isn't there an influence yet back of that to be thought about? Prevention is better than cure.

Belated at a friend's house one night this week—Sunday night—and obliged to go two blocks on Summit street at quite a late hour, the writer met a group of seven boys, not one of whom was older than fourteen and some of them were as young as ten years. They were all smoking cigarettes and the language they were exploiting in their efforts to be manly and ruffianly was shocking to listen to. Why wouldn't it be more wholesome for society to arrest these boys, find out if they were thus playing the part of street gamins from delight or necessity. Lock them up over night for a punishment, if they needed to be punished. Why not this, better than to wait until they become criminals and law breakers and gutter drunkards before they are looked after? According to the Recorder's experience, there is a chance for permanent reform with the boys, but not much promise in older criminals.

There was buried in Philadelphia yesterday, the crushed body of a man, a hero of heroes in that he did the most Christly deed that human being can do—he gave his life that another might live. He was only a railroad brakeman sitting on a coal car in the middle of his train, as it approached Fairhill Junction. He noticed a poor looking old woman picking coals from the track next his train and also that a section of cars was backing rapidly down upon her and no one to see. He cried to the woman but, deaf or absorbed, she gave no heed. Then he sprang from his car and with a giant's strength snatched her from the track and threw her ahead of him out of danger, but he stumbled and fell and the train crushed both limbs. He never rallied from the shock and loss of blood. Very aptly a fellow laborer said, when they whistle, down brakes, for the New Jerusalem station there will be an escort to meet the brave soul that gave its earthly life for a humble and unknown other one. The hero's name was William C. Grush.

O the world's loss when souls like this go hence,
Mankind, inspired, is the one recompense.

What has become of Gen. Booth and his scheme for London's poor? is being inquired occasionally. The report of the first year's working is out and shows that £25,000 has been expended on the over-sea colony, £40,000 in the purchasing and leasing of land for city refugees and workshops and £41,000 has been expended on the farm colony. The food and shelter depots have become self-supporting, the watch factory has given £475 profit in four months, the knitting factory and book binderies have earned profits. The anti-sweating workshops and the farms show small deficits. The establishment of a labor bureau cost £335 and 15,000 applicants have served during the year. Two and a half million cheap meals—penny, half-penny and free have been furnished, two hundred ex-criminals are hopefully reformed and 10,904 sick in the slums have been attended by the officers in the Army. A pretty good showing for the first year.

The public schools for girls in Paris report favorably on the shorter hours plan. From 9 to 12 comprises the number of hours of study, and in the schools where the test has been made, the Reoul says so good work has never been done before, and this gives them the afternoon for home duties and to learn other things as necessary as book lessons. Where manual training courses are introduced into schools there is no thought of desk-weariness and the cooking and dress-making is thoroughly and systematically taught. When the kindergarten is incorporated into the public school system and the clerical work for teachers is simplified and minimized, we will be on the high road towards perfection.

The world's fair grounds are already so crowded an effort will be made to lease at least forty acres more, and the floral gardens will have to be curtailed. Among those who have promised to contribute to the plant display are Jay Gould and George W. Childs. Mr. Gould has some century old palms, forty-five feet high, and his collection is said to be among the finest in the world. The duplicate of the Eddystone light-house, which has flashed its wonderful light for the last six months over London from the grounds of the naval exhibition, is offered by the Birmingham firm, to be erected and placed in position on the lake shore, both for display and as a beacon to vessels.

Mrs. Doremus, a friend of Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., sat next a man unknown to her in the court room where the divorce trial was going on. She said to him in a moment of excitement "the man in this case is a scoundrel and a poltroon." "Do you know to whom you are talking?" was replied. "I am Mr. Blaine." She blushed slightly but assured him that she adhered to her opinion.

John Ruskin will soon complete his 72nd year. At the age of 7 he wrote an essay on Time in blank verse, and at 20 gained the Newdigate prize for English poetry. But as is often the case, he pays for his early precocity by a dimmed and failing intellect in old age. Only about so many years are the allotted time for mental activity.

Secretary Blaine went to the funeral of Senator Plumb leaning on the arm of the president. To one class of Washington correspondents he looked strong and vigorous; to another feeble and broken. Strange how the mental condition produces strangeness of vision.

It is estimated that over two millions dollars is sent from this country to continental Europe and Great Britain anent the holiday season.

TAKING HIS MEDICINE.

President Harrison (last Thursday)—'Lije, have you seen the papers yet with editorial comments on my giving Bill Woods that judgeship?

Elijah—I have that, your excellency, and they are pretty hot reading.

"I presume so, 'Lije; I presume so. We public men have to put up with a great deal from a pernicious press. However, let us now fill out Steve Elkins' commission as secretary of war."

"Don't you think you had better wait till the Woods matter blows over, your excellency?"

"No, Elijah. You know the old story of the man who cut off his dog's tail an inch at a time so as to save the poor brute the agony of having it all cut off at one blow. Let us take our medicine at one gulp, 'Lije. It tastes pretty bad, but our case needs heroic treatment."—Chicago Times.

THE BOND HOMESTEAD SOLD.

Richard Kerlin Buys a Valuable Piece of Real Estate.

Yesterday a deed was closed whereby Mr. Richard Kerlin, of Kerlin Bros., the well-known contractors, became possessor of the Bond homestead on Seventeenth, near Jefferson street. The consideration was $13,500. The lot is 50x120 feet and the house is a substantial brick. The price is the best that has been paid for property in that vicinity for some years. Mr. Kerlin proposes making Toledo his home and headquarters, and while he came here originally on a contract, he found Toledo a good city in which to do business and make a home in.

THE WATERWAYS CONVENTION,

And the Necessity for Improvement in Our Bay and Harbor.

To the Editor: The late river and harbor convention at Detroit was composed of 250 intelligent, practical, and experienced business gentlemen. It was a united and harmonious convention. The primary object of the call was to consider the necessity of increasing the depth of the connections between the lakes to at least twenty feet. These connections comprehend a shoal above the Soo canal—excavations in the St. Louis river—all along Lake St. Clair, and in Detroit river. The sentiment of the members was unanimous, that twenty feet of depth for our largest ships would by no means be too great in order to give them a suitable margin of water over and above the variations of depth occasioned by wind and drouth, and enable them to transport the cargoes they were built to carry. I sincerely believe the government will adopt the proposed scheme and commence next year upon its execution.

The convention was not called to consider the effect of the proposed improvement upon localities, and that fact, interprets the object of this letter, namely, to discuss the effect of this improvement upon the harbors of Lake Erie and especially not only upon our straight channel, but upon our harbor inside of the bay.

Toledo must take immediate measures to enforce her claims for a depth of water in the bay and in our harbor corresponding to the improvements in the lake connections above referred to, and for the reason, that if, under these improvements, vessels load to a draft beyond the capacity of our bay and harbor the commerce is sure to go past us to ports that can float the vessels. I know that a tremendous pressure will be brought to bear upon congress to commence the work I have outlined, and Toledo must lose no time in presenting the necessity of a corresponding improvement.

I have included our harbor in the demand for improvement by the government for two reasons:

First—Because the improvements referred to will create a necessity for excavations at several points, and

Second—The above being admitted, the government ought to do the work, and also for two reasons:

First—Because the government will create the necessity for the work by deepening lake connections, and permitting vessels to float larger cargoes than can be safe in our harbor, and

Second—Because the government is improving and has heretofore improved other harbors, east and west, and we have the right to ask it of her.

But above all things, and before all things, this city must excavate some of the shoals that now prevent vessels of small cargoes from entering here, without lightering. It is a burning shame. It is a stain upon the fair fame of this city that vessels of small capacity ground at our docks. It is a damaging and ruinous fact upon our commerce that vessels of the larger class trading with upper lake ports, will not come here to load coal at rates current at other ports, because of these shoals. And what will our city council do about it? If the past illustrates the future interest in the question by that body, nothing will be done. For a year they have been implored to act, without effect. Owners of dredges have offered to do the work and trust to future legislation for compensation. Members of the council make objection that the money must be in the treasury before the city can order the work to be done. If it is true that the money has not been in the treasury, it is not, probably, true to-day, under the collection of taxes. The cost of the partial excavation will not exceed $500, and the work can be done this winter, if we have a continuance of the present temperature for a limited period. The city council is again most earnestly and respectfully urged to set apart the money for this work and order it done. If the government consents to improve our harbor, it can not be commenced before October next, because a river and harbor bill is never passed until the close of the session, and after that the surveys must be made before a stroke of work can be performed.

What Toledo wants is a government dredge stationed here for use in the harbor and bay. The government now owns sixty of these machines in the west. The machinery for such a vessel built at Bucyrus, O., is the best machine of its size on the lakes. Toledo can get one like it, and much on other lines, if she will ask it, and help herself, and hump herself, and not without.

DENISON B. SMITH.

FOREFATHERS' DAY.

It Is Celebrated in Toledo To-night with Banquet and Lecture.

This evening at 6:30 o'clock the Toledo Congregational club will sit down in the Boody house to its third annual banquet. The occasion is the observance of "Forefathers' Day," commemorating the settlement on New England's "stern and rock-bound coast" of the founders of the Congregational church in America.

In the evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, an address will be delivered in the First Congregational church, by Rev. C. D. Brown, D. D., now of Tacoma, Wash., one-time a Toledoan. Dr. Brown's subject will be "The Pilgrims and Our Common Schools." Tickets are sold for the banquet, but the address at the church is free to all, and all are invited to attend. There should be a large response.

WHAT THEY THINK IT MEANS.

Dudley may not have been invited to dinner at the white house, but he seems to have held a place in the president's memory just the same.—Chicago Times.

President Harrison can never say to Financial Schemer Steve Elkins, as he meets his glance across the table, "There is no speculation in those eyes which thou dost glare withal."—Boston Globe.

President Harrison has deftly dropped two golden apples of patronage into the lap of West Virginia. If that hesitating sister may be wooed with gifts into the embrace of the grand old party next year, nothing appears to have been left undone to win her favor.—Philadelphia Record.

It is indeed beginning to look as though the president and Blaine may have arrived at an agreement. Senator Quay and other antagonists of the administration declare this is not so; but the Dispatch is compelled to note this morning what looks like affirmative evidence, even when in common with the general public it would prefer to believe otherwise.—Pittsburg Dispatch, Rep.

It is rather hard for the "conscience republicans" to swallow Elkins. But why revert to bygone issues in the party, like honest method and civil service reform? When Headsman Clarkson runs a great national committee, why shouldn't a president in great need of a wire-puller take an all-round expert like Steve Elkins into his cabinet circle?—Boston Globe.

The appointment of Stephen B. Elkins is probably an assurance that Blaine will not be a candidate for the republican nomination. With all the disreputables supporting him, Mr. Harrison will probably take the nomination without much difficulty. Anti-Harrison men will please take notice and crawl into their holes.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

The selection of Goff and Elkins for high office is generally interpreted to mean that Goff and Elkins have taken a contract to deliver the electoral vote of West Virginia to Mr. Harrison. But whether delivery can be made or not remains to be seen. There are obstinate men in West Virginia, and honest ones—and a majority of democrats.—New York World.

In the cabinet he can hold his own with the wire-workers, and will not scruple to bend his views to his ends. His nomination, however, adds further complexity and perplexity to the position of the republican managers and organs, who do not know whether to shout for Harrison or Blaine. Mr. Elkins is the evident choice of one as a confidential and trusted adviser, and he is the close friend of the other.—Philadelphia Record.

The Express finds nothing to commend in the Elkins appointment. Mugwump and democratic journals will discover much to condemn. If any republican organ knows aught to say in defense of the appointment it cannot be said too soon. It will be urged that Mr. Elkins was appointed to please Mr. Blaine. It is true that Elkins has stood very close to Blaine, but if Mr. Blaine had been president he would have known too much and had too much sense of propriety to put his friend in his cabinet.—Buffalo Express, Rep.

GAS TRUSTEES MEET

And Grind Out Considerable Business—Destroying the City's Property.

It transpired at the meeting of the board of gas trustees last evening that many consumers of city gas have discarded both mixer and meter, and were burning gas direct from the pipe. It is claimed that $10,000 worth of mixers have been bored out and thus destroyed.

The payroll was passed, and it was decided that the employes should be paid first, and that the other claims should remain unpaid if there was not sufficient money in the treasury to meet them. Mr. Greene refused at the previous meeting to sign the payroll owing to its abnormal proportions, but it went through last night without any explanations or objections. It looks as if $6,000 a month was a rather stiff payroll, and that, too, when the work of construction has been suspended.

The payroll for the first half of December, amounting to $3,174, was again presented and passed and ordered paid.

Manager Heston recommended that in all cases where consumers use gas in violation of the rules, that in addition to the penalty in the contract that such consumers be obliged to use meters hereafter.

Mr. Heston referred to the fact that many were boring out their mixers. President Parsons did not see that it would improve matters much.

Dr. Jones said it was the custom of the Northwestern to cut off such violators at once.

Mr. Parsons said the Northwestern was a corporation and had no soul.

Dr. Jones doubted if a city corporation had any soul either.

Mr. Greene said it was necessary to take some action. Many mixers were being destroyed by being bored out.

The recommendation was approved, and it was referred to the judiciary committee to formulate a new rule.

Manager Heston reported 185 meters in use, and that others were being placed in position daily.

The Young Women's Christian association asked for free gas or at reduced rates for its quarters in the Darst block. The object of the association was pointed out as to do for the young women what the Y. M. C. A. is doing for the young men.

Mr. Brown thought the application should be granted. The aim of the association was a good one. It was a work of charity that the board should recognize.

Dr. Jones moved that the association be furnished gas free of cost.

President Parsons wasn't sure the board had the right to give gas away.

Dr. Jones said it was a charitable institution, and under the law was entitled to free gas.

President Parsons said in his opinion the law didn't apply to any but charitable institutions controlled by the city.

Mr. Greene moved that the matter be referred to the manager for investigation.

Mr. Brown thout the petition was all the report that was necessary.

The amendement was carried 3 to 2.

Parks, Foster & Co. complained that in the list of consumers furnished by the board in districts 3 and 7 there were innumerable omissions, among which were the Jefferson house, B. F. Wade & Co., Dr. Jones and others. They asked that they be permitted to furnish a man who would act in connection with an employe of the board to find out just how many had been connected.

Secretary Brown said he had told Mr. Parks Foster that the list furnished him was not complete, and it was only a partial report. Referred to the committee on city plant.

The Westinghouse company presented its bill for meters, 5,100, and stating gas certificates at four months in payment would be accepted. Referred until later.

A proposition to drill wells and take certificates in payment was presented and accepted

A lease for 20 acres with George Adams, Bloom township, was approved. A rental of $200 annually is payable.

Superintendent O'Herron asked for three days' absence and the same was granted.

Dr. Jones from the committee on claims reported a schedule of bills, $194.81, and the same was ordered paid.

The Westinghouse bill again came up, and it was referred to the manager.

DIVORCE MARKET BOOMING.

Four Cases Filed in Common Pleas Court To-day.

The common pleas court docket never before contained so many divorce cases as have been filed during the last two terms. Toledo in her own quiet way is giving Chicago a lively hustle for first place in the divorce market.

Four cases were filed this morning and scarcely a day passes without one or two suits being entered.

The cases filed to-day are as follows:

Forest H. Sivers against Ida Sivers, gross neglect.

George L. Rubadon against Jennie Rubadon, desertion.

Mary M. Harris against Levi Harris, extreme cruelty and gross neglect.

Carrie Hayward against John Hayward, extreme cruelty.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Toledo Will Have a Local Representative—No Forakerite Need Apply.

Col. Brinsmade, United States district attorney, is to have a second assistant, and he will be a Toledo man with headquarters in Toledo.

A special agent of the department of justice has been in the city for several days and in response to the earnest request of many will, it is understood, report favorably on an application for a local assistant to Col. Brinsmade. At present both the district attorney and his assistant are located in Cleveland and it is necessary to await their convenience before a legal point connected with any of the federal offices here can be settled.

The office will be a plum for some Sherman hustler, and it is already understood that no Foraker man need apply.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

HIS WISH WAS GRANTED.

Senator Plumb Wanted to Die Like Beck Did,

And His Taking Off Was Equally as Sudden.

A Character Removed From Public Life—Grave Political Questions Have Arisen in Kansas.

Washington, Dec. 22.—The sudden death of Senator Plumb is regretted by everybody in Washington. He was a bluff, hearty, genial and kind man. He was an extreme partisan, but still had frequently the courage of his convictions and was not afraid to go against his party in an emergency. He was a western man to the marrow, and there was no man in the senate so thoroughly feared by the eastern republican clique that to a great extent controls that body.

There were stronger western men in the senate than Plumb, but he had more courage than any of his western colleagues, and had a bold and ready way of expressing himself, which caused his republican colleagues a good deal of anxiety from time to time.

He was a hard worker. He answered every letter received from his constituents, and read every newspaper published in the state of Kansas.

As soon as the departments were open in the morning he began the rounds and kept going until the senate convened and after the adjournment of the senate, if the departments were still open, he began work again.

It was the general belief of his colleagues that he was one of the healthiest men in the senate. He took a great deal of exercise and in walking exercised every joint and muscle, as he did also when speaking in the senate.

He delivered a 15-minutes' speech in the senate on Thursday evening and never seemed to be in better health or condition, yet still he felt himself that there was something the matter with him and he went to Philadelphia to consult an eminent specialist.

It was said that he was then warned that he might be called off suddenly at any time and that he remarked that that was just the way he would like to go, or, as he expressed it himself: "When the time comes I would like to go just as Beck went—all of a sudden."

He will be missed in the senate. He was by long odds the most original man in the body, and his mannerisms were frequently the delight of the galleries, while he frequently shocked the more austere of his colleagues. He was to a great extent the original of Mr. Crane's "Senator."

Any person who has seen Crane on the stage in "The Senator" will have a very fair idea of Plumb's make-up and his general actions of speech and gait. He is one of the three republicans who had courage enough to vote against the McKinley tariff bill and was one of the strongest advocates of free coinage of silver in the senate.

Most of his personal friends in the senate were on the democratic side of the chamber. With Vest and Cockrell, of Missouri, and Coke, of Texas, and Berry, of Arkansas, he was particularly friendly. Cockrell and himself were on the appropriations committee, and they stood together pretty well for western and southwestern interests.

Of course there is a good deal of gossip here as to who will succeed him, and a good many believe that Ingalls may succeed to the vacant chair. But it is the opinion of Kansans here that Ingalls does not stand much chance, and it is safe to say that if Plumb had an idea that Ingalls would succeed him that he did not die happily.

Plumb had a perfect contempt for Ingalls, and made no effort to disguise it.

There is no doubt, however, among people here, that Ingalls will try and work himself in again. Of course the members of the alliance who control the present legislature of Kansas would like very much if a special session of the legislature would be called, but it is not likely that the republican governor of the state will give the alliance brethren a chance at selecting another senator, although a good many lawyers here believe that unless the governor calls the special session of the legislature for the purpose of redistricting the state that the state may lose a vote in the electoral college; but at the present time a vote in the senate may be deemed more essential to the republicans than a vote in the electoral college, as it is not likely that the next president will be chosen by a majority of one in the electoral college, while one vote to either party, from present appearances, will be a matter of considerable consequence in the senate of the Fifty-third congress.

The Kansans here believe the governor will appoint either ex-Gov. George T. Anthony, Judge R. W. Blue or George R. Peck as Plumb's successor. Mr. Peck is at present the general solicitor of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, and is a man of splendid ability, and is very popular with the people of the state. The Kansans here, however, think that Judge Blue is nearer to the governor than any of those named, and that perhaps on the whole he stands the best chance to receive the appointment.

IT IS TERRIBLE

To have a wife or husband with a bad breath. All this may be avoided by using SOZODONT. It is most agreeable to the taste, fragrant and healthful. It confers comfort upon its users, and prevents the affliction of unpleasant breath.

We do not know why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is so useful in those simple but varied conditions which you know as "having a cough." We cannot explain it: we only know the fact from experience.

It may be due to the combination of tonic effects of cod-liver oil and the hypophosphites; it may be partly due to the glycerine. There are many effects in medical practice the causes of which appear to be plain, but how those causes produce those effects we do not know at all.

CONSUMPTION

SUPPOSE.

When through the long hours of the night
  A restless vigil oft I keep,
And ponder till the morning light
  On all the cares that banish sleep,
There sits upon my tumbled bed
A teasing demon at my head,
And whispers in my tortured ear,
So loud I cannot choose but hear,
A dreary catalogue of woes
That all begin alike—"Suppose!"

"Suppose! suppose!" he whispers first,
"Suppose the kitchen boiler burst?
Supose the doctors say the worst
  Of poor rheumatic Jimmie's case?
Suppose you never sleep again?
Suppose you get that horrid pain
  You had last winter in the face?
Papa is looking rather pale;
Suppose his splendid health should fail?
Suppose the gout should attack his toes?
Suppose! Suppose! Suppose! Suppose!

"Suppose the landlord raise the rent?
  Suppose your Charles his luck abuse
To speculate with every cent,
  And all his hard-earned fortune lose?
Suppose the horses run away"
  (On the teasing urchin goes)
"Upon Virginia's wedding day?
  Suppose Suppose! Suppose! Suppose!"

At last I answer, once for all,
"Suppose! suppose the sky should fall?"
The bed is soft, and warm, and wide;
I turn upon the other side;
With quiet breathing, long and deep,
I try to cheat myself to sleep;
Yet still the demon interposes
To rouse me from my sweetest dozes.
I'd like to smother in the clo'es
That wretched little imp—Suppose!

A Russian journal reports an interesting case of a philanthropic physician. Visiting the patients of his districts the doctor found that in many instances their sickness was caused by hunger. The good doctor made arrangements with the druggist to supply the flour at his expense. In this way his patients will be kept from starvation the whole winter.

Special Indian commissioners are now allotting lands to the Banning Indians in southern California, and it is said that the Indians will be the wealthiest community in that section. Each man, woman and child in the tribe will receive 10 acres of land, described as the finest fruit land in that section, and with a sufficient supply of water. A competent authority says that the lands are worth $150 an acre. In addition to these lands, allotted in severalty, are some 3,000 acres of pasture land, with water, which will be held in common by the village. The Indians are industrious and thrifty.

When examining a horse with a view to purchasing, always have him led down a steep or stony descent at the end of a halter with no whip near him. Many horses when brought out of the stable are excited by the presence of strangers and become still more so at the sight of a whip. A slight lameness may therefore be momentarily overlooked by the horse himself, just as a man, under strong excitement, will sometimes forget a sore foot. Leading the horse down a slope will show any defect in his fore quarters, and running him back will develop any weakness that may exist in his hind legs. Horse sharpers know these facts as well as anybody, so if the horse is in the least affected they will generally avoid a hill when showing off a horse to a probable purchaser.

CARROLL AND MEYER.

Preparations for the Fight This Evening.

Both Men in Good Condition, and a Hard-Fought Battle Can be Expected.

New Orleans, Dec. 22.—Tickets for to-night's fight between Billy Meyer and Jimmy Carroll at the Olympic club are being rapidly disposed of, and present indications point to a jammed amphitheater.

All arrangements have been completed for the fight and the referee has been selected, but his name will be withheld until the men enter the ring. Meyer received a royal welcome on his arrival, and crowds are going to Carrollton where he is putting the finishing touches to his training.

Meyer is in fine condition. He said he had been attacked with vomiting and was unwell, but this is thought to be only a blind to the statement that Carroll had been suffering with rheumatism.

Meyer's appearance certainly does not indicate that he is not in better health than on any previous visit to New Orleans. Carroll reached here last night from Bay St. Louis. He was in perfect form and is not suffering in the least.

"It will take a better man than the Meyer who whipped Bowen to defeat me," he said, and both Carroll and Fitzsimmons said they were confident of victory.

Fitzsimmons and Austin Gibbons will probably second Carroll and Link Pope and Eddie Meyer will be behind Meyer.

Both men are to weigh in at the ringside. Carroll weighed about 140 yesterday and will probably be a little heavier than Meyer in the contest, since the latter expects to tip the beam at 136 or 138.

There are a number of eastern sports here and a Chicago delegation is expected. Great interest centers in the fight, but betting men are somewhat wary. Even money was posted, but yesterday a bet of $500 to $400 was made on Meyer, and those are about the odds to-day. Carroll's age is considered to be against him. The fight will start promptly at 9 o'clock.

The Albany Street M. E. Sunday school will give the children a Christmas entertainment on Wednesday evening, December 23. There is a good program provided, and "Santa Claus" has promised to be there with all the good things of the season.

If each copy of the Woolson Spice Co.'s "White Squadron" album be equal to the copy seen at the Bee office this morning, a clear case of "something for nothing" has at last been found. The enterprising firm above named are giving this album to anyone sending them 15 trademarks cut from the Lion Coffee wrappers, that being the only way in which they can be secured.

The hand of death has been busy again. The last victim in the artistic world to answer to the unrelenting call is Narcisse Berchere, the famous painter of oriental subjects, who was born at Etampes in 1819, and died in this city a few days ago.

Few painters have ever approached Berchere in the masterly style and execution of his work. The warmth of color his magic brush imparted to his picture stamped him as one of the most famous artists of the century. His subjects all seem to be walking out of their canvas, and the longer they are regarded the more animate they seem to become.

Strange to say, he never imparted the secret of his art. When putting the finishing touches to a picture he invariably shut himself in his atelier, to which access could only be obtained through a door which he locked on the inside. Taking food and drink with him sufficient to last two or three days, he disappeared from the world, as it were, and never re-entered it until his work was ready to be taken from the easel and exhibited to an admiring people.

The light and shades from the figure to the background were the especialty of his secret, and what pigments he employed and how he employed them will forever now remain a mystery.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

A Week of Wild West Drama—Lucretia Borgia—The Minstrels Coming.

Sadie Hasson and J. J. Dowling opened a week's engagement at the People's last evening in the "Red Spider." This is a wild west border drama of the most pronounced type, with plenty of thrilling situations, narrow escapes and a plentiful display of fire arms, with some shooting now and then and a lynching bee as a finale. The cast is composed of cowboys, relieved by a negro and a Chinaman for character artists. The parts are well taken by a fair company supporting the stars, and some magnificent scenery is displayed.

The house was well filled last evening and the play "caught" the audience splendidly, as was evidenced by the enthusiastic applause. Incidental to the play some clever songs and dances are introduced by Messrs. Allen, Harvie and Garvie, and they were obliged to respond to frequent encores.

Commencing Thursday "Nobody's Claim" will be presented for the balance of the week.

The Minstrels.

The company composing Lew Dockstader's minstrels, which is a large one, embraces a number of the most prominent burnt cork artists in the business. A great deal of money has been expended on costumes and decorations, which, like the spectacular settings with which the performance opens, are very elaborate and beautiful. The colloquial work is done with spirit and the songs are new, admirably rendered and some of them both mirth provoking and beautiful. The leading comedians and specialty artists are George Powers, Frank Girard, McIntyre and Heath, Cain and Loreno, The Three Marvelles and Perry and Magrew. The vocal department is led by Mr. Fred Salcomb, the famous English tenor and the magnificent band and orchestra is under the direction of W. F. Spurel. "Hotel Punch de Leon," an Ethiopian musical farce comedy arranged by Messrs. McIntyre and Heath, finishes each performance, and the popular Dockstader appears as "The Modern Beau Brummel" in a new and striking single specialty. This attraction is booked at Wheeler's next Saturday evening, Dec. 26. Sale of seats opens Thursday next.

Lucretia Borgia.

Indications are that Ida Van Cortland, in "Lucretia Borgia," will draw well at Wheeler's Christmas day, when two performances will be given, at popular prices.

The Toronto World speaks of her as follows:

"Miss Van Cortland presented the historical romance entitled 'Lucretia Borgia' at the opera house last night in a manner that assures her a position in the very front rank of emotional actresses. Her impersonation of the title role is such a strongly marked, distinct personality that it is hardly realized as a stage portrait, but to the auditor seems real—a real living, breathing personage from the pages of the past. Her love is real, her passions human, her hate intense, at all times her personal magnetism is such that one forgets that it is but a passing stage picture that is absorbing his every thought."

BLAZE IN LEIPSIC.

Much Valuable Property Wiped Out.

Leipsic, O., Dec. 22.—About 3:30 Sunday morning the citizens of this place were aroused from their sleep by the cry of fire, the bakery and provision store of Chas. Huber being in flames.

The fire was first discovered by Night Watchman Cas Heidely, who gave the alarm. In spite of the efforts made by the fire company and the citizens, the fire made very rapid progress, and in a few moments Sol Young's dwelling, west of the bakery, was in flames, leaving hardly time for the removal of his effects.

On the east of the bakery was the grocery and provision store of W. A. Bell & Co. The building in an incredibly short time was wrapped in flames, W. A. Bell & Co. losing nearly their entire stock of merchandise. J. D. Haderman's dwelling W. P. Ludwig & Co., and N. H. Hiner's business place were soon consumed. The warerooms belong to Hummons & Fifer and D. G. Lefler, in the rear of Union block, were also swept away, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the Union block was saved.

The fire west of Young's dwelling was stopped before it reached D. G. Lefler's dwelling. The fire swept away almost an entire block in the very heart of the business part of the town. Insurance is light. Haderman lost his dwelling with no insurance.

The fire engine owned by the corporation proved of little value, as it is too small. The citizens did heroic work, saving many buildings and a large amount of merchandise.

The origin of the fire is not at this writing known. It caught near the oven in Huber's bakery, but Huber declares he had no fire in that part of the building since 10 a. m. of the 19th, that he uses natural gas in the oven, and that no fire could have been left in the oven part of the building. He claims the fire is incendiary, and if his statement is true such seems to be the fact.

DOCTOR'S FEES AND FREE ADVERTISING.

According to newspaper reports, a celebrated American surgeon received $5,000 for removing a little wen from a wealthy lady's scalp. The papers fail to state the exact amount of free advertising the doctor managed to obtain.—National Advertiser.

Let's reason together.

Here's a firm, one of the largest the country over, the world over; it has grown, step by step, through many years to greatness.

This firm pays the newspapers good money (expensive work, this advertising!) to tell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or cure they don't want your money.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is sold on this liberal plan. If it doesn't benefit or cure, it costs nothing. It cures Skin, Scalp and Scrofulous affections, as Eczema, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Fever-sores, White Swellings, Hip-joint disease and kindred ailments.

It's the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through druggists, no matter how many hundred doses are offered for its price ($1.00 a bottle), since you pay only for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

A RADICAL BANKING BILL

Congressman Walker Has a Novel Scheme

To Make a More Elastic Currency.

It Aims to do Away with Bonds, Claims to Make Currency Safe, and Will Divorce the Government From Monetary Affairs.

Washington, Dec. 22.—Mr. Walker, of Massachusetts, will introduce a banking bill which provides for a more elastic currency than any scheme ever before proposed, and as elastic as it is consistent with safety. It does away with all bonds, but makes the currency as safe to the people, in case of the failure of the bank, as the present system.

It provides for the issue of bills by banks equal to the average of their reserve and an equal amount secured form the government by exchanging legal tender for circulating promissory notes, the old greenbacks to be cancelled and destroyed, to the amount of 90 per cent. of the currency notes so secured from the government, 10 per cent. to be reserved for a redemption fund.

It provides that the reserve of the bank shall be not less than 50 per cent. in gold and gold certificates. It allows the bank to trench upon its reserve to any extent on any given day, provided its reserve averages the legal amount during the month. It taxes the bank 4 per cent. on the average deficiency of reserve in any month.

It provides for an examiner-in-chief, who shall direct and supervise all bank examiners, and make the examination at the expense of the government. It provides for reports to the comptroller each month of the main items of assets and liabilities of the bank for each day, and any other information the comptroller may request.

It provides that, as in the case of silver, notes and treasury notes to-day, the government may sell 4 per cent. governments (two to five years bonds) and redeem the notes gotten from it by the exchange of lawful money for the notes, and that all of the assets of the bank with the liabilities of the stockholders, shall be used to first pay the notes issued by the bank on its reserve in case of failure or discontinuing its business.

It provides that the charters of all banks shall be so issued that they shall expire to the same number and having capital to the same amount each year for 33 years, each bank having a right of renewal of its charter, to cover a period not less than 30 years.

But one of the very best features of the bill is that it confers upon the secretary of the treasury the right to devolve the duties and responsibilities of executing the provisions of the redemption of the notes and other banking functions upon reserve banks, under such regulations as he may deem safe and proper, and to deposit with them the funds, etc.; and also provides for a "board of advisers of experts to the comptroller of the currency upon changes desirable in and methods of executing existing law concerning banking, consisting of the comptroller of the currency, ex-officio, and the president of the chief redemption bank in the five chief redemption cities in the country, or such substitute for any one of the officials named as he shall from time to time appoint, which board shall meet once a year or oftener at the call of the comptroller of the currency or of a majority of the board, the action of the board to be published in the reports of the comptroller of the currency."

The bill thus contains in itself the ultimate divorcing of the government from all connection with the monetary affairs of the country except a police supervision.

The bill is so written that banks can be organized under it alongside of existing national banks, and all existing banks can organize under the new law at once, and are required to organize under it at the expiration of their charters. Under this bill, it is claimed by Mr. Walker, that the banking capital of the country would increase to one-half as much again to double in five years, and the volume of the currency would be self-adjusting and would not vary materially from the needs of trade, which would be a great advantage to the country.

The adoption of a banking system that would commend itself to the people would do more to settle the question of coinage than any direct legislation upon it. Were the banks organized under this bill, it is claimed that by its working all other forms of currency notes in the country would soon be eliminated. It is so written from beginning to end as not to be open to the objections to the present banking system which exist in the popular mind.

In fact, it may be supported consistently by greenbackers, free-coinage-of-silver men and monometallists. It has the approval of some of the leading bankers in the country.

Congressman Walker said to a correspondent who asked about his banking bill: "This is a radical departure from the basis now existing for issuing bills, and practically follows the most approved system of France, Germany, and especially England. The banks under this act issue bill without reference to the coin reserved, and it is left in the power of the comptroller to allow a larger volume of bills to be issued by the bank in those seasons of the year when currency is needed by the people.

"The fact is that the present system, or, rather, lack of financial system, is wastefully extravagant. There is not, and can not be, in the country any legitimate use for more than $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 of coin, while, in fact, there is more than twice that amount. Of course, no banking bill will be taken up and passed this session until one party or the other thinks there is some political capital to be made.

"I hope the democratic majority will see the solution of the silver question in the scheme I present. From what I know of the present purpose of some of the men who have most determinedly passed the free silver issue in previous congresses, I believe no free silver legislation will pass this session."

"WORTH A GUINEA A BOX."

From Fame, a London Newspaper.

Mr. S——, a chemist of Liverpool received a bill for the amount of 28s. from Thomas Beecham, St. Helens. Mr. S——, being in considerable pecuniary difficulties, pondered for a considerable time how to meet the demand. At last a bright idea flashed across his mind, and he said, joyfully:

"Yes, I will send Beecham a box of his own pills—he says himself they are worth a guinea a box—and seven shillings in cash."

This he did. In the course of a few days great was the surprise of Mr. S—— to find that Beecham had forwarded the receipt attached to which were the words "Cash only in future. Thomas Beecham."

In the United States Beecham's Pills are also advertised as universally acknowledged to be "worth a guinea a box"—but that they are for sale by all druggists at 25 cents.

Beecham evidently thinks it best to hedge against such bright fellows as the Liverpool druggist turning up on this side of the water.

Alliance, O., Dec. 22.—Burt Garber, who is traveling over the state in the interest of ex-Gov. Foraker, has been here, and to the question, "How do you consider Foraker's chances?" said: "It looks as though he is not in it.

"We have Sherman credited with eight votes more than enough to elect him and I am afraid he will be the man. But we will bring in as large a Foraker vote as we can, just the same."

WATCHING INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Harrisburg, Dec. 22.—The Dauphin county court to-day entered decrees dissolving the Merchants' Mutual Fire Insurance company of Altoona, and the Dauphin Mutual and the Farmers' and Mechanics' of this county, for violating their charters in doing other than mutual fire insurance, and because their assets are not adequate to meet their liabilities.

COUNCIL BUSINESS.

A Spicy Communication from Contractor Miller.

A Number of Street Improvements Adopted—The Illuminating Gas Ordinance—Other Work.

All members of the board of councilmen were present at the meeting last evening except Mr. Taylor. But little discussion was indulged in, though a number of interesting matters came before the board.

Mr. Bay introduced a resolution requesting the general assembly to authorize the city of Toledo to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the purpose of building additional engine houses. This was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Mr. Coleman presented a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Central Street Passenger railway to run cars on the Western avenue line to Air Line Junction every 16 minutes at least.

Mr. Gill introduced a resolution directing the street commissioner to comply with the ordinance regarding sidewalks, which require him to serve notices for the construction and repair of sidewalks, to keep account of the same and make monthly reports and to keep sidewalks in repair.

Mr. Gill stated that on the east side of the river the sidewalks are sadly neglected, and he thought that the street commissioner should pay more attention to them. On his motion the resolution was adopted.

A resolution from Mr. Pheatt for a plank sidewalk on Woodruff avenue from Union to Oak, was adopted.

Mr. Pheatt moved that the city ordinance establishing the fire limits be referred to the fire committee, the board of fire commissioners and the chief of the fire department for revision. He stated that this ordinance had been changed so often that it is hard to tell where the fire limits are, and he thought the ordinance should be revised and put in proper shape. His motion was carried unanimously.

A resolution from Mr. Walker for a plank sidewalk on the north side of Bartlett street, from Detroit avenue to Clinton street, was adopted.

The ways and means committee reported five lots of bonds offered for sale, as stated in yesterday's Bee. The only bids were one of Spitzer & Co. of par and accrued interest for the Western avenue bonds, amounting to $11,713.11, which was accepted, and a verbal bid from a responsible party, whose name was not given, for the Walbridge avenue bonds, amounting to $10,292.52, which was also accepted.

On motion of Mr. Pheatt, the ordinance to accept the plat of part of Western avenue addition was referred back to the committee, notwithstanding protests from Mr. Caldwell.

An ordinance to accept the plat of Miles' addition was passed.

Resolutions from the judiciary committee for several assessment abatements were adopted.

From the street committee ordinances were passed establishing the grades of Putnam street, north of Bancroft; Winthrop street, from Putnam to Franklin avenue; Macaen street, from Fulton to Franklin; Columbia street, from Putnam to Franklin, and Batavia street, from Putnam to Franklin. Resolutions were also adopted to grade these streets between the points named.

An ordinance was passed establishing the grade of the alley between Church and Williams streets.

A resolution to grade Yondota street, from First street to the Lake Shore tracks was referred back to the committee on motion of Mr. Pheatt, but was afterwards reconsidered and passed.

A resolution was adopted to pave with old Medina stone the alley between Huron and Erie streets, from Monroe to Jefferson.

The cedar block pavement on Front street, which caused some debate before the committee, was accepted without comment.

From the sewer committee ordinances were passed to build sewers in Michigan street, from Ash street to Stickney avenue; in Sixth street, from Nevada to Starr avenue; in Monroe street, from Detroit to Bancroft; in the alley between Knower and South, Maumee avenue and Dix street; and in Harrison and Mill street.

Resolutions were adopted to build sewers in Woodville street, from Nevada avenue to Navarre, and in the alley between St. Clair and Oliver streets.

A resolution was adopted requiring the removal of the scales at the end of the old market shed, the same to be removed within two weeks.

The contractors' fight on Auditor Walker was again brought to the front by the following communication from John R. Miller:

Toledo, O., Dec. 21, 1891.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Toledo, Ohio:

The undersigned wishes to call the attention of your honorable body to the following facts as they exist: The money for the improvement of Washington street from Seventeenth street to Collingwood avenue was due, in accordance with our contract, on Aug. 9, 191, but there is still due the sum of $2,561.96. Lenk street was due Aug. 30, 1891, but a balance of $7,708.87 is still due. Maumee avenue was due Oct. 25, 1891, but a balance of $5,876.73 is still due. Ash street money, amounting to $13,469.76, due on Nov. 7, 1891, is still unpaid. Walbridge avenue, amounting to $12,040.99, is still unpaid. Stickney avenue, due Dec. 6, 1891, amounting to $1,911.91, is still unpaid.

Now, we wish to state that in our opinion the fault lies with the city auditor, who either through carelessness or incompetency, has refused and neglected to advertise for the sale of bonds to pay the above amounts, and when bonds are sold, refuses and neglects to pay over the proceeds of the sale of said bonds. Bonds amounting to $101,000 were sold on the 7th of December, but the money is on deposit in the bank, drawing interest at the rate of three-quarters of 1 per cent., while the city pays interest on the same money due contractors at the rate of 6 per cent. Thus the failure of the auditor to perform his duties costs the city $14.73 per day, or $441.90 per month.

While not wishing to prefer charges against the city auditor, yet we think the above to be of sufficient importance to receive your careful consideration.

Very respectfully,
JOHN R. MILLER.

This was referred to the committee on ways and means without comment.

The ordinance fixing the price of illuminating gas at $1.10, or $1.25 when not paid before the 10th, came up for concurrence in these prices, which were in the form of amendments from the upper board. The amendments were adopted, but the ordinance held over another meeting for passage.

A resolution was adopted to advertise for bids for collecting and disposing of garbage for a period of one, two, or five years, the insertion of five years being an amendment.

Mayor Emmick's veto of the street railway ordinance was read and referred to the board of aldermen.

Other business from the upper board was adopted.

The United States Minister Calls Witnesses to Note that the Legation is Being Surrounded.

Valparaiso, Dec. 22.—Minister Egan yesterday officially requested the Argentine minister, Senor Urriburu, to note the presence of Chillian police agents in the immediate vicinity of the American legation, as also the attempted arrest on last Saturday night of Frank Egan, the American minister's son.

A meeting of the foreign ministers will shortly be held for the purpose of requesting the attention of the Chillian government toward the action of the municipal authorities in maintaining police surveillance of the American legation.

Additional insult was offered the American minister on Saturday in the case of one of the refugees under his protection who applied for a release upon furnishing bonds to appear when wanted by the authorities.

This was recently granted to another refugee in the Spanish legation. The government replied that the refugee must first leave the American legation, surrender himself to the Chillian authorities and submit to imprisonment.

The government, after he had done these things, would consider his request, not before.

J. I. Case Dead at the Age of Seventy.

A Successful Business Man, He Made a Large Fortune—His Famous Horse Jay-Eye-See.

Racine, Wis., Dec. 22.—Jerome I. Case, a famous manufacturer and horse breeder of this city, died at his home on Main street at 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. Case was nearly 70 years old.

He came to Racine in the '40s, and from a small shop in which he built one threshing machine at a time, his factory grew until it now covers 40 acres of ground. Besides this mammoth factory Mr. Case was the controlling spirit in the plow works here.

It is estimated that his fortune amounts to $5,000,000 or more.

About fifteen years ago Mr. Case began breeding trotting horses and his stable still boasts such famous cracks as Jay-Eye-See and Phallas. Mr. Case was a rugged man of his age, and until a few days ago personally superintended the workings of his colossal factories.

Mr. Case leaves a widow and four children. His son Jackson is now mayor of the city.

SECRETARY AND OFFICES OF COMPANY.
W. H. MOLLETT, - - 12 Moorgate Street, London, E. C.

All the ordinary (common stock) shares of the company will be allotted to the vendors and others, and none are offered for subscription or sale.

The eight per cent preference shares and £35,000 of the six per cent. debenture bonds are offered to the public for subscription at par, payable twenty-five per cent. thereof on application, and the balance within five days after allotment.

The subscription lists in America will open December 21st at 10 a. m., and close December 28th, 1891, at 3 p. m. Allotments will be made as soon as practicable thereafter. The company reserves the right to reject any or all subscriptions, and to make allotments of less amounts than the amounts applied for. If the whole amount applied for by any applicant be not allotted, the surplus amount paid on deposit will be appropriated toward the sum due on allotment. If no allotment should be made, the deposit will be returned in full.

Prospectuses and subscription forms can be had at the offices of the attorneys and bankers where subscriptions will be received.

The English company will acquire the title to all property, assets and effects of the present prosperous Buckeye Brewing Company, including the good-will and trade-marks of the business. The business has been established for thirty years, and is well and favorably known throughout the state of Ohio.

The progressive character of the business can be judged from the sales of beer during the last five years, which have been as follows:

Year ending August 31:

1886	50,853	Barrels.
1887	56,483	"
1888	61,628	"
1889	63,690	"
1890	63,998	"
1891 (nearly)	74,000	"

The profits likewise show a steady increase year by year. Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., of London and New York, Chartered Accountants, have examined the books of the Brewery and certify as follows:

44 Gresham Street.
London, E. C., 27th July, 1891.
Buckeye Brewery.

We have examined the books of this Brewery at Toledo Ohio, U. S. A., for the period of four years ending 1st September, 1890, for the purpose of ascertaining the profits earned during that period. The profits, after charging depreciation, but without charging the salary of the president, were as follows:

Year ending August 31:

1887	$ 74,911
1888	99,742
1889	113,059
1890	134,285

(Signed)
PRICE, WATERHOUSE & CO.

Taking the net profits of the business to equal about $130,000 there would be an ample surplus after paying the interest on the bonds and the dividend on the preference shares to provide for expenses of management and the dividends on the ordinary (common stock) shares.

1. To pay interest on the debenture bonds would require	$26,352
2. To pay dividends of 8 per cent. on preference shares..	33,184
3. Leaving an estimated surplus per annum of	70,464
	$130,000

The directors believe that this very large surplus will increase with the development of the business, and that the future profits will enable the company to declare substantial dividends upon its ordinary (common stock) shares, besides affording ample protection to the holders of the cumulative preference shares against any contingencies of business that can be foreseen.

Mr. Dennis Coghlin and Mr. George E. Pomeroy, of Toledo, who, for five years last past, have had the active management and control of the business, and, as such, have built up the trade to its present large dimensions, have agreed to act as managers of the business on behalf of the English company for the period of five years at the salary of $4,000 per annum, as heretofore paid to them, and such further sum as the company may vote them in each year. Mr. Jacobi has also agreed to act as superintendent for the period of three years at the same salary. The directors are, therefore, confident that the business will be conducted with the energy, ability and integrity that has characterized the management in the past, and that the managers will do their utmost to further develop and increase the business for the benefit of the English company.

The business will be acquired by the English company as of the first day of September, 1891, and all profits made since that date will belong to the new company, less interest on the purchase-money.

The vendor, H. W. Easun, has fixed the price to be paid for the premises, property, assets, effects and good-will at the sum of £260,000 sterling with interest.

A contract has been entered into between H. W. Easun, as vendor, and the company, dated London, December 10, 1891. There are various contracts entered into with reference to guaranteeing the subscription of a portion of the present issue, to which the company is not a party. There are also various contracts connected with the brewery as a going concern, which it is impracticable to specify in detail. As some or all of the above contracts and arrangements may come within the category of contracts referred to in the 38th section of the Companies' Acts, 1867, applications for shares will be received only upon the footing that applicants have notice of such contracts and arrangements and waive the specification herein of the dates and names of the parties thereto, and any further information in regard thereto to which they may be entitled under the provisions of the said section or otherwise.

Applications for preference shares and debentures should be made on the accompanying form, and should be forwarded to the company's attorneys or bankers in Toledo, New York or London, accompanied by a remittance for the amount of the deposit, and, if paid by check, then payable to the order of the attorney or bankers to whom the same may be sent.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

British Breadstuffs.

London, Dec. 22.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: English wheats dropped 1s during the week. This decline is due to the continued inferior quality of the greater part of the offerings.

The present deficiency in the supplies of foreign wheat, caused by the absence of Russian shipments, is two million quarters. The market, however, is confident that the shipments from America will entirely cover the shortage. Barley is quiet. Oats are in better demand and firmer. Corn and beans have declined 1s.

At to-day's market foreign wheats were lower, but the price of English wheat was maintained. The offerings of American were large. Flour sold readily, English being preferred. There was little demand for corn, pending the arrivals of America's new crop. Oats were cheaper.

Trafton's New York Produce Exchange Reporter.

Flour.—The general market has been dull and sluggish during the past week, and holders were greatly disappointed. Buyers have been scarce and indifferent, confining their purchases chiefly to small lots to keep up assortments. In short the market has begun to take on a holiday appearance much earlier this season than usual. Judging from present indications it seems highly probable that we will have dull and flat markets during the rest of the month. The depression has been attributed partly to dull and weak foreign markets, and partly to the break in grain values, as a natural result of the liberal movement from the northwest and unexpected increase in the visible supply. Recent advices from the principle winter wheat states have been generally favorable for the growing corp, the plant having made good progress since the first of the month and is now believed to be much more vigorous than it was a month ago.

London wheat and corn markets quiet and steady. Weather seasonable. Liverpool wheat dull; corn easy, 1-2 pence lower.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 735,427 bu, compared with 391,186 bu on the same day last year.

The imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 3,408,000 bu of wheat and 27,000 bbls of flour, equal to 3,529,000 bu of wheat and 720,000 bu of corn.

The quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage increased last week 1,032,000 bu, being an increase to the United Kingdom of 1,128,000 bu and a decrease to the Continent of 96,000 bu. Corn increased 32,0000 bu.

Our table of available wheat and corn shows an increase of 2,040,989 bu wheat, and an increase of 881,656 bu corn.

Exports of gold from New York for the week were $61,000, all to South American ports; of silver, $126,203, nearly all to France and England. Imports of gold were $985,962, chiefly from France and England; of silver, $99,218, from the West Indies.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 343,241 bu. in excess of the corresponding Tuesday in 1890.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were 380,744 ,and flour—without Philadelphia—to an average of 490,000 bu. The exports of corn was 204,336 bu. and of oats 353,036 bu.

English markets as reported herein are dull but unchanged in quotations for wheat. Corn lower and dull.

English Importations and Stocks.

The imports of wheat and flour into the United Kingdom continue in a ratio beyond the estimated consumption, and the English visible supply, as cabled to us today, increased last week 1,114,000 bu. In addition to this, the quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage to the United Kingdom increased last week 1,128,000 bu, while the quantity to the continent decreased 96,000 bu, making a net increase of 1,032,000 bu. It is not unnatural that under such a movement English markets should become weak, unless it is expected that the continent will become buyers of some of their afloat cargoes. But, after all, the 21,000,000 of bu. of ocean stock is only five weeks' consumption, and deducting home grown wheat supply, it is only seven weeks' average requirements of foreign wheat, and about half the stock is not due to arrive until March and April. Then again, the ocean stock for the continent is but three weeks' supply, on the basis of 4,000,000 bu. per week average requirements of foreign wheat to supplement their home supplies. Obviously the ocean stock furnishes no ground for a panic in prices.

The Weather and Prices.

The weather abroad furnishes a marked contrast to that of last year, and the effect of soft weather is to diminish consumption and allay solicitude concerning the growing wheat. A cold turn abroad would start up prices.

Foster, of St. Joseph, Mo., says we are to have real cold weather this week.

The Markets To-day.

The wheat market on this side of the ocean continues to decline, and seems to grow weaker daily. The friends of wheat are unduly exercised concerning stocks abroad and on the ocean. Too much importance is attached to such statistics. Our wheat will all be needed, and there is no occasion for despondency or breaking down of markets.

Corn is becoming more plenty in the markets, and prices of that cereal are also weak and lower. It is well that we have had soft weather, otherwise corn would have moved with too great freedom.

Liverpool is reported as closing unchanged. Paris reported closing lower for flour. No other continental closings reported.

In New York December wheat closed 5-8c and May 3-4c lower; December corn 1 3-8c and May 1-2c lower; December oats 7-8c lower.

In Chicago December wheat closed 1-4c and May 3-4c lower; December corn 2 1-4c and May 1-2c lower; December oats 1-8c lower.

In Toledo—We have had a little more animation in the wheat market, but prices have dragged from the start and the trading without any interest. Orders were scarce on either side and the market closed at a loss of 1c. On the call May wheat sold at $1.01 3-4 to $1.01 1-2. After the call May sold at $1.01 1-2, and after narrow fluctuations closed at $1.01.

Cash wheat was in light demand. Millers bought a little early, but a weaker market scared them off. No. 2 soft sold at 95 1-2@95c, a loss of 1c; No. 3 soft at 91 1-2c; No. 4 at 85c.

Corn was cheaper. No. 2 for January at 41c; No. 3 at 40c; No. 4 at 38@37c; No. 3 yellow at 40 1-2@41c.

Oats—No. 3 white at 33 1-2c.

Rye—No. 2 at 90c.

Clover seed was dull at opening at about yesterday's prices, but later declined. Prime for cash sold at $5.45, but at close $5.35 was about the market. February sold at $5.50, down to $5.40, and March at $5.45. No. 2 at $5.30@5.20, and lower at close to sell.

IN RAILROAD CIRCLES.

The Roads in the Alton Boycott Violated the Law.

Holiday Passenger Business Better Than Ever Before—Operators Hopeful—Other News.

The action taken by the General Passenger Agents at a meeting held quite recently in New York city, in recommending that the Alton boycott be withdrawn, virtually ends the long and bitter strife.

Now that the war is over, the startling fact is apparent that all lines which participated in the boycott are at the mercy of the Chicago & Alton, should this line choose to enforce the terms of section 3, Inter-state Commerce law, which is as follows:

Section 3. That it shall be unlawful for any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act to make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any particular person, company, firm, corporation, or locality, or any particular description of traffic, in any respect whatsoever, or to subject any particular person, company, firm, corporation, or locality, or any particular description of traffic, to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever.

"The Wheeling & Lake Erie never ceased its traffic relations with the Chicago & Alton," said James M. Hall, general passenger agent of that line to a Bee. "The principal reason for this among others that we assign for not participating in this boycott was the terms of that section of the inter-state commerce law governing traffic, wherein all discrimination is prohibited. The Wheeling never became a party to a boycott against the Alton or any other road. I was speaking with General Manager Agent Charlton of the Alton in Chicago the other day, in regard to the action of the Erie and also about the violation of the inter-state commerce law. He stated that the Alton had no intention and did not care to prosecute these lines, for the reason that the road has been doing more business since the boycott has been declared than ever before, and he was sorry the end came so soon."

Holiday Business Lively.

"Holiday business was never better," remarked Assistant General Passenger Agent Conrad, of the Clover Leaf, this morning. "There is always a great deal more travel during the two weeks of holidays than any other period of the year, for the same length of time, but this year there is going to be more than ever before. One reason, and the principal one is, times are better and money plentier. The big crops this year have had an exhilarating effect on all branches of business and the railroads come in for their share. Then the facilities and accommodations of travel have been greatly improved, and rates are better than ever. We have greatly improved our service and expect a remuneration for the same."

Prospects Favorable.

The operators of the Southern Pacific, who are out on a strike, are still maintaining their position and gaining additional forces every day.

A local member of the Order of Railway Telegraphers received a dispatch from one of the grand officers to-day conveying the information that there were 400 men out and prospects favorable.

Hocking Valley Appointment.

Assistant General Yardmaster Naddy, of the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo road at Columbus, has been promoted to the position of general yardmaster, made vacant by the resignation of Wm. Quinn. The appointment goes into effect January 1.

EMBEZZLER ARRESTED.

Edward C. Bonnell, of Cleveland, was arrested at the Union depot last night by Detectives Duffy, Gilroy and O'Brien. The arrest was made on telegram from Cleveland charging Bonnell with being an embezzler to the amount of $70. He had with him three trunks which were taken to the Central Police station. The man's wife was with him and is stopping at a hotel. Officers are expected here from Cleveland to-day to take the man back.

The remarkable growth which, till within two years, was brought about principally by one person telling another, is a monument to Garfield Tea's merits.

UNPARALLELED SUCCESS.

Among the noted professional men of this country who have achieved extraordinary success are Drs. France and Ottman, principals of the France Medical Institute, Nos. 38 and 40 West Gay street, Columbus, Ohio. This large measure of success is the result of a thorough and careful preparation for their calling and extensive reading during a long and unusually large practice which has enabled them to gain high commendation even from their professional brethren. In 1886 they established the France Medical Institute for the treatment of all forms of chronic, nervous, nasal, throat, and lung diseases. They associated with themselves a full corps of eminent physicians and surgeons of the most eminent qualifications and mature experience. These specialists employ only such courses of treatment as are exactly adapted to each individual case. They have restored hundreds of people to perfect health that had been given up as hopeless, not only by the home physicians, but, also, in many instances, by those considerably renowned as specialists.—Ohio State Journal.

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of The France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients have decided to visit Toledo, Wednesday, December 23. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett house, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

A Guarantee

The cheapest furnace man in the world will give you a guarantee to heat your house. But what satisfaction do you get when the weather is at zero, or 10 below, and the furnace does not heat your house? The change cannot be made then, and you must suffer until the weather will permit to make the change. Is it not best to give the job to some one whose reputation is a guarantee that your house will be heated during the coldest weather?
